AMC Consultants’ (AMC) Operational Health Check (OHC) is a high-level diagnostic that investigates six focus areas (Strategy, People, Plan, Do, Check, Act) and more than 70 elements that have been developed from its 30 years of mine operational reviews. The results provide a clear view of the overall health of your mining operation and where the risks and key improvement opportunities lie.

Is the operation aligned to the strategic goals?
Is performance good luck or good planning?
What are the biggest opportunities for cost reduction or revenue maximization?
Are your systems robust if there is a high turnover?

AMC understands the business of mining and is unique in its delivery of strategy optimization, operational improvement, benchmarking and corporate work. With operational experience, a global database of project, cost and benchmarking data, and a range of intellectual property, AMC has the proven ability to deliver outcomes with maximum value, focusing on the key issues and business drivers for mine planning, operations and profitability.

AMC’s Business Improvement suite of products and services is designed to maximize returns.
